

QUEENS BOROUGH AND LONG ISLAND

BAY SIDE RECTOR SCORES GRAFTERS AND ALLIES

The Rev. W. E. McCord Preaches Strong Sermon on Situation in Queens.

THREE KINDS OF MEN AT FAULT

Corrupt Politicians, Respectable Men Who Neglect Civic Duties, and Men Who Profit by Others' Misdeeds.

The demand for civic betterment in Queens has been taken up by the clergy from the pulpit, and yesterday a number of references were made to local conditions in sermons that were preached. One of the most able sermons of the day was that by the Rev. William E. McCord, rector of St. John's Church at Bay Side, which is attended by Henry T. Weeks, who was foreman of the Grand Jury in Queens, which has been investigating the graft situation. Among other things the Rev. Mr. McCord said:

"Are the blessings of liberty and equality enjoyed by our people as they should be? Instead, those advantages which a government such as ours should afford are being lost. Political corruption, bribery and wrongdoing are fruits of our public life. These evils are in evidence. Taxation without representation, against which our fathers fought, was not half so grievous as our present taxation without benefit to those taxed.

"The situation is clear enough. Judged by its fruits it is in a measure a failure. Not because of its beginnings, for they were most honorable. The system has failed just in a measure as we have failed to administer it aright. The blame is ours. Two classes of offenders are responsible and almost equally culpable—first, the corrupt politicians, who engage in politics for selfish ends, and second, the respectable citizen who neglects politics for selfish reasons.

"They are equally to blame. The one votes and holds office that he may get rich and the other refuses to hold office that he may make money. Each places his interest above the public welfare. Are they not both alive? In one respect the respectable citizen is more culpable, because the corrupt politician, who neglects his duty, is at least a public man, while the other is a private life. The moment that all men and especially men of high ideals and varied interests realize their responsibility to the public life will cease, but they will not vanish till then.

"While we applaud the effort to catch and curb the corrupt official, let us see whether we cannot do as much for the culprit of the other sort and bring him to his senses.

"There is a third class of citizens whose existence I half suspect as to whom I do not know if they are far more to be pitied than they are to be feared. These are the corrupt, self-seeking politicians, who are responsible for the evils of our public life. They are responsible ultimately for all our governmental ills. But the man whom I suspect as immediately responsible is the man who, though apparently honest and clean in his private concerns, yet supports a dishonest regime because of the favors which he may secure from it for a consideration. Many a man, I feel, who believes himself respectable and patriotic thus barters away the birthright of himself and all Americans for a morsel of power. What he really gets is a trifling comparison to the real thing, the maintenance of a corrupt government, not to speak of the sacred principles sacrificed.

"When indifferent citizens assume the responsibility that they have hitherto shirked, all well-meaning people cease to support a dishonest government from which they really receive no benefits, the dishonest politician will get out of business. Upon the good citizen, therefore, rests the blame for the measure of failure chargeable to our public life."

HIT WITH A LOADED CLUB

Bay Side Man Attacked by Manhattan Delivery Wagon Driver.

Forehead Laid Open and Skull Possibly Fractured—Driver Says He Used Club in Self Defense.

Max Schultz, 25 years old, a driver employed on a delivery wagon of a Manhattan department store, was charged with assault upon James Logan, a prominent resident of Bay Side Boulevard, yesterday, before Magistrate Fitch, and held for examination under heavy bail.

It appears that Schultz went to Mr. Logan's residence, which faces Little Neck Bay, late Saturday afternoon, to deliver some merchandise, and while he was in the house his horse started to damage a tree on Mr. Logan's property. Mr. Logan protested, and threatened to report Schultz to his employers. Then, Mr. Logan claims, the driver pulled out a club a foot long, and loaded with lead, and struck him over the head. People in the vicinity heard Mr. Logan's cries for help, and while some went to his assistance and telephoned for Dr. H. A. Houghton, others held the driver, and a telephone call was sent to the Flushing police and Bicycle Policeman Harry McAvoy arrived and arrested Schultz.

Dr. Houghton found it necessary to put three stitches in a wound on Mr. Logan's forehead, and yesterday he told the court that he feared Mr. Logan may be also suffering from a fractured skull. His condition is said to be critical.

Schultz tells another story. He says that when he came out of the Logan house, after making a delivery of some packages, Mr. Logan complained that his horse had damaged his tree, and that it was not until Mr. Logan attempted to pull him out of his wagon that he used his club to protect himself, he claims.

The club with which the assault is said to have been committed was brought to court by Officer McAvoy yesterday, and although only a foot in length, it weighs several pounds and seems to be fully loaded with lead. Schultz claims that he had the club to protect himself from thieves while on his route through lonely sections of Queens.

HURT IN ROW WITH STRANGERS

Julius Harowitz, 63 years old, of 555 Fifty-sixth street, Brooklyn, and Carl Schubach, 42, of 311 East Sixty-fifth street, Manhattan, had a quarrel with two strange men at Sanford's Hotel, North Beach, about 7:40 o'clock last night.

Blows were exchanged, and Harowitz sustained a slight scalp wound. Schubach received a wound in the right cheek. After being attended by an ambulance surgeon from St. John's Hospital, both men left for home. No arrests were made.

LEADERS WELL BUNCHED.

How Vote in Jamaica Carnival Contest Stands Now.

The St. Mary's Hospital carnival popularity contest at Jamaica, now stands as follows: Dana Martin, 5,146; Margaret Morris, 5,049; Mrs. Lawrence Bangerter, 4,932; Blanche E. Winham, 3,133; Elsie Mager, 2,966; Jennie Greenbaum, 1,553; Frances Winakre, 1,458; Mary Soper, 1,175.

The contest for the most popular policeman in the Fourth Ward of Queens is close now. Charles M. Smith of the Richmond Hill precinct, leads with 3,551 votes. Edward Johnson, bicycle patrolman in the Jamaica precinct, is a close second with 3,509 votes. Charles Madison of Queens Park precinct, has 3,347; James P. Kennedy and Edward J. Carroll, both of the Jamaica precinct, have respectively 3,025 and 1,918.

$2,500 FIRE AT RIDGEWOOD.

Fire occurred about 5 o'clock this morning in the vestibule of a two-story private frame dwelling, owned and occupied by William Somers, at 5 and 7 Cottage place, Ridgewood. Damage amounting to about $2,500 was done. The cause of the fire is unknown.

DROWNED AT FAR ROCKAWAY.

While bathing in the ocean off Ostend Beach at Far Rockaway yesterday morning, Julius Schlanter, 23 years old, of 324 East Eighty-fourth street, Manhattan, was seized with a cramp and drowned before assistance could reach him. His body was not recovered.

ROCKAWAY IS ALL READY

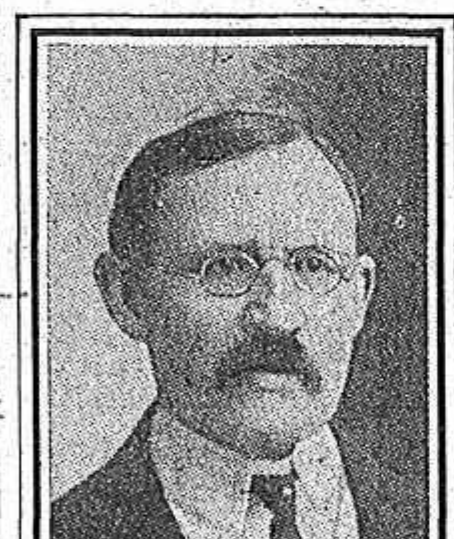

To Greet Knights of Pythias. Annual Convention Opens To-morrow.

Many Delegates Already on Hand. Ball at the Imperial Hotel. This Evening.

Far Rockaway is ready to welcome the delegates to the annual convention of the Knights of Pythias of the domain of New York, which will be held at the seashore this week. The resort is gay in its decorations of flags and bunting, and everything is in readiness for the event. This year's convention is the first in twenty-two years that has been held within the limits of Greater New York, and all of the lodges of the Greater City have been actively identified with the work of getting the convention under way.

Headquarters are established in the Imperial Hotel, where the sessions of the grand lodge also will be held. Here the grand secretary has been busy during the day examining credentials of the delegates and attending to other details, and the preliminary work of the convention. Many of the delegates arrived yesterday, but the greater part came to town today.

This evening there will be a ball in Imperial Hall, and to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock the public opening exercises will be held in Imperial Hall, when a number of prominent speakers will make addresses, and there will be music and singing. In the afternoon at 1 o'clock the first session of the grand lodge will open in Imperial Hall, and the convention will get under way. The programme for the week, which was published in full in The Eagle of Saturday, will keep the visitors busy during their stay at the seashore.

Charles E. Rice, Grand Chancellor of P. D. Cravath's Hydrangeas.

P. D. CRAVATH'S HYDRANGEAS.

They Are Many and Beautiful—A Feature of His Locust Valley Estate.

(Special to The Eagle.) Locust Valley, L. I., July 25.—One of the prettiest sights in this vicinity is seen at the summer home of Paul D. Cravath, on the road leading from Locust Valley to Bayville. The drive in front of Mr. Cravath's house is in the form of a half circle, and it is bordered throughout its length by tubs containing hydrangeas.

There are as many as fifty of the plants, and just at this time each has many big and beautiful blooms on it. The effect is magnificent.

The house, by the way, is a splendid demonstration of what can be done in the line of converting an old-fashioned farmhouse into a modern, beautiful and convenient home. When Mr. Cravath's fine villa was destroyed by fire, the family decided for the time being to occupy the farmhouse, which stood to the northeast of the former house. Plans were made for the remodeling of the house, and were carried out in record time. The result is as lovely and artistic a home as anyone could desire. While the site lacks the commanding view of the former mansion, it is exceedingly pretty and much nearer the Sound.

ANCIENT FENCE COMING DOWN.

Stone and Concrete Wall to Inclose Flushing's Quaker Meeting House.

The old picket fence which protected the grounds about the old Quaker Meeting House, on Broadway, Flushing, for over two scores of years is now being removed and in its place there is to be built a concrete and stone wall.

The picket fence was of interest because of its very ancient pattern. Numerous other improvements have been made on the property of the society, but the meeting house itself is in an excellent condition despite its advanced age. Experts who have examined it say that a more substantial building was never erected on Long Island and that it will outlive many of the more expensive and artistic buildings erected in recent years.

"THE WALRUS AND THE CARPENTER."

"OYSTERS, COME AND WALK WITH US! THE WALRUS DID BESECH. A PLEASANT WALK, A PLEASANT TALK, ALONG THE BRINY BEACH!"

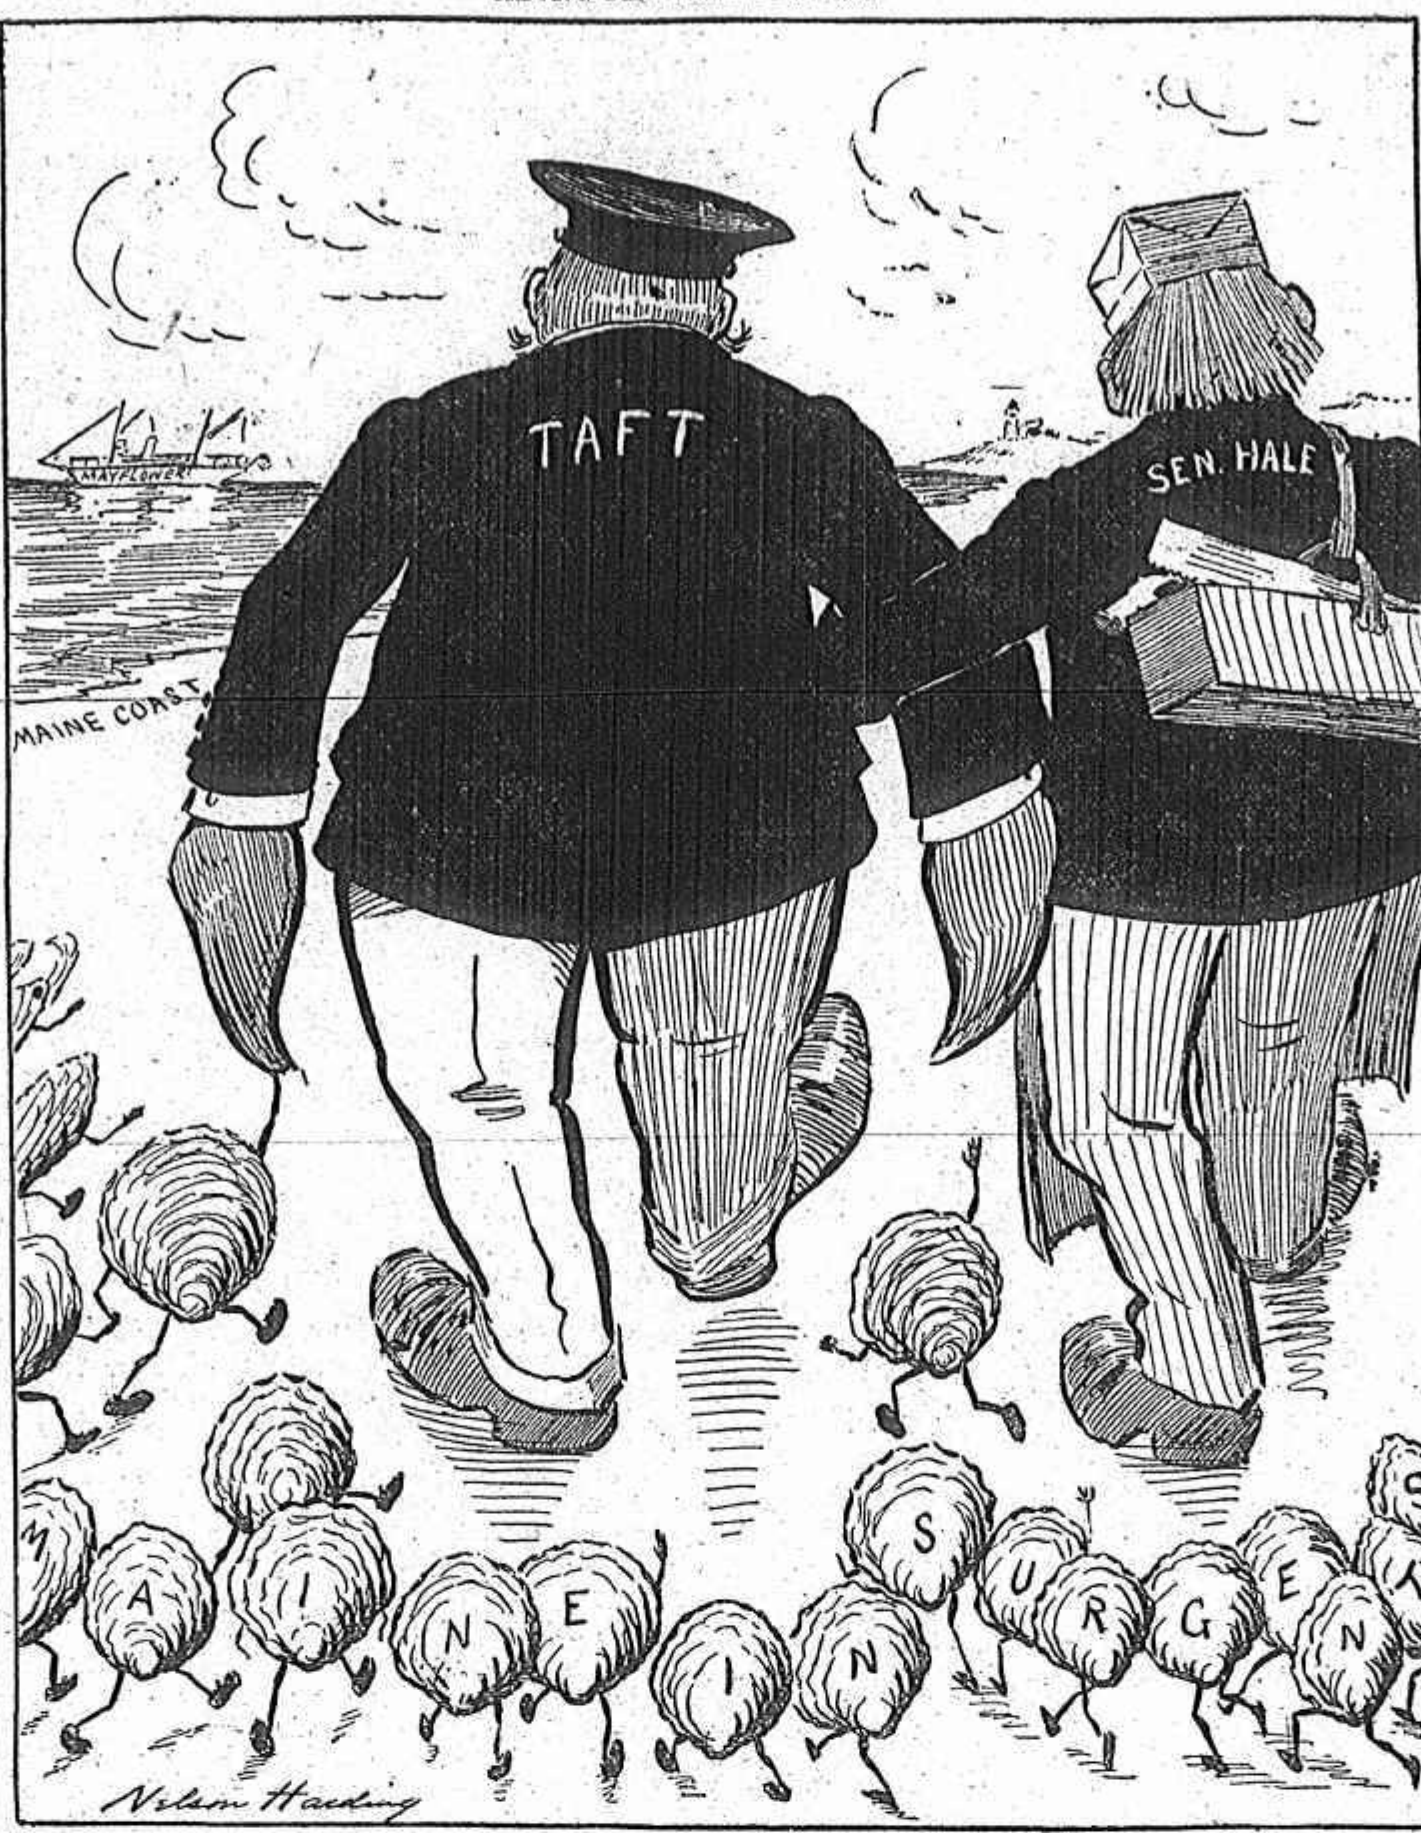

Illustration by Nelson Harding.

YOUNG PRIEST HEARD IN FIRST HIGH MASS

College Point Catholics Honor the Rev. Francis W. Clair, C. S. S. R.

ST. FIDELIS' CHURCH FILLED.

Father Clair Congratulated in Sermon by the Rev. H. J. Zilles.

Saratoga, N. Y.

The Rev. Francis W. Clair, C. S. S. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Clair of North Boulevard, College Point, who was ordained a priest by the Right Rev. Thomas F. Cusack, D.D., at Esopus, N. Y., on last Wednesday, officiated at his first solemn high mass in St. Fidelis Catholic Church, College Point, yesterday morning.

Father Clair was born in College Point and is the first young man of that village who has entered the priesthood, and in honor of the event his many friends gave him a great ovation.

Previous to the service there was a procession through the principal streets of the village, in which the members of the Holy Name Society, St. Ambrose Council, Knights of Columbus, Long Island Council, C. B. L., St. Fidelis Society, St. Joseph Society, St. Fidelis Cadets and Drum Corps, the school children and many visiting clergymen took part. Father Clair was accompanied by the Rev. Ambrose Schumack, the pastor of St. Fidelis Church, and his father, Francis R. Clair.

The services commenced at 10:15 o'clock, and long before that hour the pretty little church was crowded with friends and neighbors of the young priest. The interior was handsomely decorated with carnations, pink roses and palms, and St. Fidelis church, under the direction of the Rev. Father Wunch, the assistant pastor of St. Fidelis Church, sang Van Bree's mass.

Father Clair was congratulated at the mass, the Rev. Ambrose Schumack, arch-priest; the Rev. Father John O'Connell, the Rev. Bernard M. Huebner, C. S. S. R., sub-deacon, and the Rev. Father James Traherer, C. S. S. R., master of ceremonies. Among the other priests who assisted in the services were Mr. Eugene J. Donnelly, pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church, Flushing; the Rev. Father O'Brien of St. Luke's Church, Whitestone; the Rev. Father Hubert J. Zilles, C. S. S. R., of Saratoga, N. Y.; the Rev. Father John B. Daly, C. S. S. R.; the Rev. Father Frank C. S. S. R.; the Rev. Father McDaniel and the Rev. Father Antonino O'M. Cap.

Daniel Stack, Leo McCracken, Andrew Wick, Frank Wick, Christian Coyne and Sarah Miller, who served as altar boys with Father Clair, while he was attending St. Fidelis parish school, acted as altar boys at yesterday's services.

The Rev. Hubert J. Zilles, C. S. S. R., of Saratoga, N. Y., delivered the sermon. His text was: "Let a man so account of us as of the ministers of Christ and the dispensers of the mysteries of God." (I Cor. iv.)

Father Zilles said, in part: "To-day, brethren, are assembled to see a newly ordained priest celebrate his first mass. This day is for us a day of gladness. Your very countenances prove it as you meet to witness and participate in an event which has never before taken place in College Point.

"Your pleasure is all the greater because he who to-day stands for the first time at this altar as a priest is a child of your own parish. Here he was born; before your very eyes he grew up to manhood, reared by good parents, who for many long years cherished in their hearts the secret yearning and joyous expectation of seeing their beloved son a priest of God. To-day their hearts' desire is satisfied, their expectation realized.

"I turn to you, reverend father, newly ordained priest, and congratulate you in the name of your parish. I congratulate you that God has called you to the holy priesthood in C. S. S. R. and deemed you worthy of such a sublime and exalted position. At the end of your priestly course and an edifying life as a Redeemer, may your words, with your last laboring breath, be a repetition of St. Paul's: 'I have fought a good fight.'"

During the afternoon there was a reception at the home of Father Clair's parents, and in the evening Father Clair officiated in a solemn high mass in St. Fidelis Church.

In a few days Father Clair will return to Esopus, where he will remain until another year before he starts out to do missionary work.

The Rev. Father Clair was born on July 1, 1880. In his early life he found his vocation to be the church, and intended to become a secular priest, but later on, after entering St. John's College, Brooklyn, decided to enter the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer (C. S. S. R.). He received his early education in College Point parish school, and later entered St. Francis Xavier's College, Manhattan. From there he went to St. John's College, Brooklyn, and on August 1, 1909, he entered St. Mary's College (Redemptorist) North East, Pa. On July 21, 1904, he entered the Novitiate, Annapolis, Md., and on September 1, 1905, entered the Seminary at Ilchester, Md., and remained there until he was called to Esopus, N. Y., where he was ordained.

FREEPORT SLEUTHS TERMED "HOBO COPS"

George W. Haight Forcibly Represents His Man's Arrest on Auto Speeding Charge.

DEMANDS JURY TRIAL FOR HIM.

Big Realty Developer Tells Court Speed Traps for Motorists Are Hurting Nassau County.

(Special to The Eagle.)

Freeport, L. I., July 25.—Declaring officers detailed by Police Captain John Dunbar yesterday for the purpose of arresting automobilists who violated the motor vehicle law to be a lot of "hobo cops" and the setting of the trap on a measured course a money-making scheme, George W. Haight, vice president of the Queens Land and Title Company, whose car was held up, and J. Campbell Thompson, his chauffeur, placed under arrest, struck the local crusaders a sharp verbal blow in the police court where Justice Sidney H. Swezey sat to receive complaints and receive the fines of all who pleaded guilty.

Mr. Haight was passing along the Merrick road, on which the measured course was located, when suddenly a man appeared in the road and halted the car. After being informed that the car had traveled at a rate exceeding twenty miles an hour for a distance of one-eighth of a mile, the chauffeur was directed to drive to the police court. Here the complaint was made out and a warrant read to the chauffeur. A plea of not guilty was entered and a jury trial demanded by Mr. Haight for his accused employee, Justice Swezey set the trial for August 6.

Mr. Haight denounced the entire scheme of apprehending motorists. He said he was one of the largest taxpayers of Nassau County, and the kind of work undertaken in Freeport was a sample of the administration of affairs he wanted to get out of it and spend no more money in the territory. The company of which Mr. Haight is a prominent official bought land and made picturesque a large tract of land at Massapequa.

Seven other automobilists and one motorcycle fell victims to technical violations of the law yesterday. None, so far as appeared, were driving recklessly or at an excessive rate, except possibly, Harold Lowe, the cyclist, who covered the 6-mile course in 17 seconds or a mile in 2 minutes and 16 seconds. Lowe was hurrying home he said, to get supper. He paid a fine of $7.

Among the motorists was Carl Damschinsky, a manufacturer of hair dyes living at Ocean Side. He is a friend of ex-Justice A. B. Wallace, one of the official squad, who made the complaint against Mr. Damschinsky, which resulted in a fine of $10 being imposed.

Damschinsky, like Mr. Haight, declared the arrests a money-making scheme. He handed over his fine and drove away in a disturbed state of mind.

Some of the auto catching squad were on duty in plain clothes and this aided in deceiving the motorists. The system of timing was worked by the hitting of an officer's hat to the other man stationed further along the course. Stop watches recorded the time made by the cars. Seventy-four dollars in all were collected from the arrested motorists.

The Merrick road, the great avenue of travel for the motorists, was the only highway covered by the sleuths. Main street, another county highway, leading to Hempstead, Garden City and Mineola, had no watchers, although used considerably by the motorists and on which speeding is frequently indulged in. This will be looked after, in future, it was said last night.

Police Captain Dunbar was satisfied with the work of his men and said that the arrests were made solely for the purpose of having the speed law enforced in the village. He said he and his men had no alternative than to do their duty.

RECTOR CRAGG TO WED.

(Special to The Eagle.)

Huntington, L. I., July 25.—The engagement is announced of the Rev. Charles E. Cragg, rector of St. John's Church, in this village, and Miss David, of Northport. It is understood here that the wedding will take place in October. The Rev. Mr. Cragg's parishioners will read this announcement with surprise, for it was thought by most of them that he was a confirmed bachelor.

PROSTRATED AT BEACH.

Mrs. Louise Leskum, 37 years old, of 2203 Fulton street, Brooklyn, while visiting friends in a car in Neptune Avenue near the surf at Rockaway Beach, yesterday afternoon, at 5:20 o'clock, was seized with internal hemorrhage, and after being attended by an ambulance surgeon, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

HIT OVER HEAD WITH A BAT.

Enthusiastic Brooklyn "Fan" Assaulted After Game at Dunton. Becoming too exultant in his boasting over the victory of his favorite ball team at a game played on Saturday afternoon on the field at the corner of Van Wyck avenue and Broadway, Dunton, Frank Pfeiffer, aged 29 years, of 3211 Central avenue, Brooklyn, was struck on the head by a baseball bat while on his way home after the game.

The bat, it is believed, was in the hands of one of the rooters for the defeated team, but no arrests have been made.

Pfeiffer was attended at the St. Mary's Hospital, Jamaica, where he was taken in an ambulance. He is not dangerously injured.

WEATHER FORECAST

Persons desiring information concerning the weather, temperature or other information can get it by using telephone No. 571 Main, from 4 A. M. to 6 P. M. week days. Nights and Sundays, 6200 Main.

Indications Until 8 P. M. To-morrow.

Washington, July 25.—For Eastern New York: Generally fair to-night and Tuesday; slightly lower temperature in central portion to-night; brisk southwest and west winds.

Local Probabilities.

Fair, except possibly local thunder-showers to-night and Tuesday; continued warm; moderate west to southwest winds.

General Weather Conditions.

Thunder-showers have been general during the past twenty-four hours over the Lake region, New York and Northern Pennsylvania. Where these have occurred the heat has been temporary relief from the generally prevailing heat. High temperatures prevail over the Central Valley. Southwest and all eastern sections. It is much cooler over the extreme Northwest, and generally fair and cool over the Pacific coast. A succession of low pressure areas over the Northern sections, with the typical summer high over the Gulf and South Atlantic, and high conditions favorable for a somewhat extended period of warm weather in this vicinity. Moderate southeasterly winds are indicated for the next thirty-six hours, with prevailing high temperatures, unless broken temporarily by local thunder-showers.

OFFICIAL TEMPERATURE.

SUNDAY, JULY 24.
Time	High	Low	Mean
2 A.M.	71	63	67
4 A.M.	71	63	67
6 A.M.	71	63	67
8 A.M.	71	63	67
10 A.M.	71	63	67
12 Noon	71	63	67
2 P.M.	71	63	67
4 P.M.	71	63	67
6 P.M.	71	63	67
8 P.M.	71	63	67
10 P.M.	71	63	67
12 Noon	71	63	67

HIGH WATER.

Time	High	Low	Mean
2 A.M.	71	63	67
4 A.M.	71	63	67
6 A.M.	71	63	67
8 A.M.	71	63	67
10 A.M.	71	63	67
12 Noon	71	63	67
2 P.M.	71	63	67
4 P.M.	71	63	67
6 P.M.	71	63	67
8 P.M.	71	63	67
10 P.M.	71	63	67
12 Noon	71	63	67

SHIP NEWS.

Arrived at New York To-day.

Arabic, Liverpool. Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, from Bremen. Duca di Genova, from Naples. S. V. Lockhart, from San Juan. City of St. Louis, from Savannah. Aiala, from Kingston. Ancon, from Port Antonio. Philadelphia, from Port Antonio. S. V. Lockhart, from San Juan. S. V. Lockhart, from San Juan. S. V. Lockhart, from San Juan.

Arrived at Foreign Ports To-day.

River Plate-Crown Prince, from New York. Rio Janeiro-Daly, from New York. Trieste-Carpathia, from New York. Liverpool-City, from New York. Antwerp-Lapland, from New York. Plymouth-Kronprinzessin Cecilie, from New York.

Sailed from Foreign Ports To-day.

Para-Christopher, for New York. Santa-Elena, for New York. S. V. Lockhart, for New York. S. V. Lockhart, for New York. S. V. Lockhart, for New York.

Due in New York.

TO-MORROW.

Heils Olav, from Christiania. Kaiser Wilhelm II, from Cherbourg. Roncho, from Liverpool. Saratoga, from Havana. S. V. Lockhart, from San Juan. S. V. Lockhart, from San Juan. S. V. Lockhart, from San Juan.

Reported by Wireless.

New York-Steamer Heils Olav, Copenhagen for New York, reported 32 miles east of Sandy Hook at 10 P. M. 23rd inst. Will dock about 7:30 A. M. Tuesday.

Steamer Stockholm, Rotterdam and Boulogne for New York, reported 33 miles east of Sandy Hook at 4 A. M. Will dock about 7:30 A. M. Tuesday.

PARIS FASHIONS UP TO DATE.

From The Eagle Paris Bureau, 53 Rue Cambon, through the courtesy of Abraham & Straus.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the history of the war between Russia and Japan and the treaties which followed. He said that the war was a great tragedy, and that the people of America should be prepared for the possibility of a similar war.

Dr. Stanley went over with remarkable knowledge the