U. S. NOT READY FOR RIVALS AFTER WAR SAYS HUGHES IN OHIO

Tells Audience at East Liverpool That We Must Have Protection.

EUROPE BOOMS INDUSTRIES.

"Amazed By Spokesman of Other Party Who Says We Are Prepared.

East Liverpool, Ohio, October 30—Charles E. Hughes, replying further to statements in President Wilson's Cincinnati speech, told an audience here today that the $2,000,000,000 increase in American exports last year was due almost exclusively to the demand created by the European war, and cited a statement by Chairman Hurley of the Federal Trade Commission to uphold the Republican claim that America is "not prepared for after the war competition with Europe."

"That $2,000,000,000 increase," Mr. Hughes said, "represents almost exclusively the demand created by the European war. What are we to do? There is but one safe course. It is idle to talk about conditions of work if there is no work. And you cannot have any lasting basis for prosperity unless you apply the Republican doctrine of protection to American industries.

"Amazed at Statement of Spokesman for Other Party."

"I was amazed the other day when the spokesman for the opposing party told the people we were ready. He said in substance that the nations engaged in this struggle are so wasted by war that we need not fear their competition.

"That is a very serious mistake. If you want to know what the facts are, let those who speak for the opposing party take the words of the Federal Trade Commission, spoken almost at the same time, as a result of their own inquiry. What is the use of having so-called expert bodies if we do not pay any attention to what they say?

"This is what Chairman Hurley of the Federal Trade Commission said last week in New York on this very subject—and I commend it to the very serious attention of those who speak for an opposing policy. He says: 'While in many respects we know little of what is going on in the warring nations, we do know that within sound of the guns, almost within reach of the falling shells, Europe is re-awakening her industries.'

"We Must Imporve Our Business Organization."

"If our industries are not to be caught slow of mind and flabby of muscle we must improve our business organization, must increase our manufacturing and merchandising efficiency, and must keep pace with every step in Europe.

"Now these are facts for American business men and American workingmen to think carefully over. When it is said here we need organization, I agree. When it is said that we need development of of alertness and power, I agree, but there is one thing that was not said. It is the thing which our opponents in view of their principles, cannot well say. It is a thing that we do say, and that is, whatever your organization, whatever your alertness, you have got to have your markets protected against the competition of labor that is paid less than you are.

"We propose to protect American industry. You cannot run this country on the principles of tariff for revenue only. We want to build up American industry, protect the American wage scale and lay the foundation for social justice."

Mr. Hughes spoke in the open air here before a crowd which was so noisy, that his voice could hardly be heard fifty feet away. He left at 11.30 for Steubenville.

FREIWALD—WEISSMAN.

MUST EXTEND GAS MAINS.

P. S. C. Directs Company to Supply 28 Woodhaven Houses.

A disagreement between the Woodhaven Gas Company, of Queens, and the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity arising from the refusal of the company to pay corporation inspectors assigned by the city authorities to inspect the work of laying gas mains, resulted in the gas company's refusal to extend its service so as to furnish with gas many of the houses in a newly built up section of Woodhaven.

Today the Public Service Commission issued an order directing the company to supply with gas twenty-eight houses erected or in course of construction at Rector street, north of Jamaica avenue.

BIG DRIVE IN KINGS TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN

Seabury, Whitman, McCombs and Calder to Talk Here All Week.

Returning from their two weeks upState campaigning, the Democratic and Republican candidates for Governor, Samuel Seabury and Governor Whitman, will train their oratorical artillery on the voters of Greater New York, paying particular attention to Brooklyn, for the next six days—the last week of the campaign.

Supporting them will be brought into play the oratorical prowess of the candidates for United States Senator, William M. Calder, Republican, and William F. McCombs, Democrat, many of the minor nominees on the State ticket, including State Controller Travis and Joseph W. Masters, his Democratic opponent, and a crowd of auxiliary speakers.

Governor Whithan will lead the drive on Kings County tonight, speaking at six mass meetings—Royal Palace Hall, Manhattan avenue and Varet street; Arion Hall, Arion place; Palm Garden, Hamburg and Greene avenues; Independence Hall, Osborne street and Pitkin avenue; Congress Hall, Vermont and Atlantic avenues, and Public School, No. 77, Seneca avenue and George street, just over the line in Queens. Mr. Calder and Mr. Travis will follow the same itinerary.

Seabury tonight will devote his attention to Manhattan. Tomorrow night he will invade Brooklyn with William F. McCombs. County Leader McCooey announced today that he had laid out an itinerary covering seven meetings as follows:

Eckford Hall, Greenpoint; Arion Hall, Arion place; Palm Garden, Hamburg and Greene avenues; Congress Hall, Vermont and Atlantic avenues; Erasmus Hall High School, Flatbush; Prospect Hall, Prospect and Fifth avenues, and the Thirteenth Assembly District Democratic Club.

Whitman and the Republican spellbinders will confine themselves to Westchester in the afternoon and the Bronx at night tomorrow, and on Wednesday they will return to Brooklyn for another round robin tour through the Flatbush, South Brooklyn and Bay Ridge sections. Thursday Governor Whitman will speak at Richmond Hill in Queens, while Mr. Seabury is scheduled to talk at Scheutzen Park, in the same county. Friday he will make another foray into that section, speaking at Corona, Flushing, Richmond Hill, Jamaica, Woodhaven, Ridgewood and Bayside.

Saturday night there will be another big Democratic demonstration in Brooklyn. The Academy of Music is to be the scene of a big mass meeting, with Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, ex-Governor Martin H. Glynn, Samuel Seabury and William F. McCombs as the headliners.

The Republicans will add to the speakers in East New York tonight Public Service Commissioner Oscar S. Strauss. He is scheduled to speak at Palm Garden and Independence Hall.

U. S. WILL ACCEPT MEXICAN DENIAL

Ambassador Arredondo Claims Cabrera's Alleged Statement Was Unauthorized.

Eagle Bureau,
608 Fourteenth Street.

Washington, October 30—State Department officials have accepted the denial of Ambassador-Designate Arredondo that the statement accredited to Luis Cabrera was unauthorized. This, it is said, closes the incident so far as the United States Government is concerned. While it is recognized that the statement purported to have been made by Cabrera probably expressed his true sentiments, his statement that the interview was unauthorized is the basis for the acceptance by the United States of the explanation offered by Mr. Arredondo.

Atlantic City, N. J., October 30—It was indicated today that the American members of the Mexican-American Joint Commission will take no official cognizance of the statement credited to Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican Commission, in which American Government officials were criticized for alleged laxity in dealing with smugglers of arms and ammunition.

Secretary of Interior Lane, head of the American Commission, it is understood, will accept, without exception, Mr. Cabrera's denial of authorship.

Mr. Cabrera had not returned to Atlantic City early today, but Alberto J. Pani and Ignacio Bonillas, the other members of the Mexican Commission, were here, and without Mr. Cabrera the Joint Commission resumed its conference.

171 NORWEGIAN MERCHANTMEN SUNK

Tonnage of Lost Vessels, 235,000—140 Sailors Have Been Drowned.

ONE-SEVENTH OF FLEET GONE.

Press Reflects Bitter Resentment of People—Germany Seeking to Force Norway Into War?

London, October 30—Much space is devoted in the morning newspapers today to a discussion of Germany's submarine war on Norwegian trade. It is pointed out that Norway now has lost about one-seventh of her total merchant shipping. The percentage of tonnage loss inflicted upon Norway is declared to be proportionately 4 per cent. more than that suffered by Great Britain. Concerning this subject, the Times says, editorially:

"There is no possible excuse for this wanton, savage attack on ships of a neutral power. Germany pretends the reason for the campaign is Norway's decree prohibiting belligerent submarines from entering Norwegian waters. But this decree was practically identical with regulations already a long time in force in Holland and Sweden, which were unchallenged by Germany."

The Daily Mail suggests: "Germany may be wantonly seeking to force war upon Norway, or possibly hopes to foment strife between Norway and Sweden, to her own advantage."

Norwegian Press Bitterly Resents Germany's Submarine Warfare.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Christiania, October 10—Never before during the war has the Norwegian press so unanimously expressed the resentment aroused in Norway by the last steps in the German submarine warfare. The Orebladet calls it piracy, and says it is the general opinion that German war against mercantile ships is directed especially against Norway.

The Tidens Tegn says bitterness has been provoked everywhere in Norway by the destroying of Norwegian property and lives of Norwegian sailors in the Arctic Ocean, and vehemently urges the Government to do something to protect property and lives.

Other papers say the German Government's secret agents, who report the sailings of Norwegian ships, are tolerated everywhere and treated in a friendly manner, while such agents have been expelled from Holland, and that when Norwegian press correspondents attempt to keep ship officers and ship owners posted as to where German submarines are lying in wait off the coast, the censorship suppresses their telegrams, lest they might be of use to enemies of Germany.

The Shipping and Mercantile Gazette says that just before the new submarine warfare was inaugurated, agents of the German Government appeared in its editorial office and threatened the paper and the country because of alleged unfriendly feelings towards Germany.

Public opinion in Norway at present is greatly excited, and the popular feeling toward Germany is far from friendly.

The German submarine warfare thus far has cost Norway 171 ships, with a total tonnage of 235,000, and the lives of 140 Norwegian sailors.

Sweden in a Difficult Position.

London, October 30—"Sweden is in a very difficult position," said the Swedish Foreign Minister, K. A. Wallenberg, in an interview with the stockholm correspondent of the Chronicle on Swedish trade and neutrality. He spoke optimistically of the prospect of improved trade relations with Great Britain.

"It is impossible for us to break with Germany, because of our urgent need of coal and other supplies with which Germany is furnishing us," said the Minister. "From the time of the beginning of the war, Sweden was determined to remain neutral, and she has never contemplated for an instant entry into the terrible conflict.

"As to the economic position of Sweden as a result of the war, some money has been made by individual industries, but a great many have suffered. It would be of great advantage to Sweden if the war came to an end. There is not a person, whether making or losing money, who would not be glad to see the end of this conflict."

GIRL TRIES SUICIDE IN THE PARK LAKE

Marion Pope Repents Her Rash Act, Screams and Is Rescued.

FRIEND TELLS OF ROMANCE.

Girl Showed Her Wedding Ring and Told of Being Married to "Charlie."

Marion Pope, a strikingly pretty girl of 20, a graduate from Erasmus Hall High School two years ago, and living at 3522 Snyder avenue, is a prisoner today in the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, on an attempted suicide charge, and her parents are seeking to piece together the ends of a romance which they believe caused her to jump into the lake in Prospect Park last evening.

After she had jumped from the bank near the boathouse, Marion found herself struggling in only four feet of water and apparently repented. Her screams were heard by John Gibbon, of 1792 Pacific street, and John Haggerty, of 2729 Church avenue. Although it was 7:30 o'clock and very dark, they were able to find her, and, together, they carried her out. The ambulance surgeon said she was suffering from submersion. When he took her to the hospital, the police placed her formally under arrest, and she will answer the charge of attempted suicide probably tomorrow.

The girl left her home Saturday morning, ostensibly for business, with the word to her mother that she might go to a girl friend's house for supper and that there would not be any cause for worry if she failed to return until late. Marion's father, Charles Emmett Pope, had scodled her only the night before for keeping late hours, and when she had not returned at midnight, her parents walked the streets the rest of the night searching for her.

They also called on the girl friend to whose home Marion had said she might go, and were informed she had not been there for five weeks.

"When I saw her the last time," Marion's mother quoted the daughter's friend as saying, "she had a wedding ring on her finger and she pointed to it and said, 'See, I mmarried to Charlie.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Pope stated that the "Charlie" referred to was Charles Wolframsdorf, 22 years old, of 1401 Myrtle avenue, an extra man at the East New York depot of the B. R. T. Charles has a brother, Joseph, living at 72 Erasmus street. The brother's wife said that Charlie had known Marion about two years, but had told her five weeks ago that he wanted nothing more to do with Marion.

Where the girl was from the time she left home Saturday morning until she was found in the Prospect Park lake last evening, her parents have yet been unable to learn from her. She has been employed since leaving high school at the Charles Williams stores.

"DRY" SPEAKERS HECKLED

Man Tells Hanly He Is Wrong About Hughes.

Dover, N. J., October 30—Hecklers were active today in Newark, where the Prohibition special train made an early stop on the last lap of its 20,000-mile campaign journey. J. Frank Hanly, the Presidential nominee, was interrupted so frequently by one man that he abandoned his speech, stepped out into the crowd and warned him to be quiet or leave. The man left. He had taken offense to Hanly's declaration that Charles E. Hughes had no program or issue.

"You take this stand and tell us a single thing that Hughes stands for, if you can," Hanly shouted.

"I don't have to do it, but you're all wrong," the man responded.

Another man, who appeared to be intoxicated, interrupted Ira Landrith, the Vice Presidential nominee. Landrith urged the crowd to take one look at the man, and then vote dry.

AGAINST HIGH POWER LIGHT

Railroads Say Searchlights Would Cost $6,000,000.

Washington, October 30—At the outset of a hearing today before the Interstate Commerce Commisssion, over the proposed requirement that railroads equip locomotives with high power electric headlights, charges were made by representatives of the roads that officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers had expelled members of the order testifying favorably to the roads and against the practicability of the high power light.

The proposed rule is being opposed particularly by large roads in the East, where traffic is congested, on the theory that its use would result in an increase in accidents. Installation of the light, it has been estimated, would cost carriers about $6,000,000. The Brotherhoods contend the headlight would prove beneficial in train operation.

This responsibility is placed upon parents by the adoption of the Park Board of a new section to Chapter 17, Article 1, of the Code of Ordinances. It is as follows:

"No parents, guardian or custodian of a minor shall permit or allow such minor to do any act prohibited by any provision of this chapter."

Police Commissioner Woods has sent out a circular letter to the policemen in the public parks instructing them to enforce the new section.

MISS GRANT WILL SING.

At the dinner which is to be tendered to Dr. Le Grand Kerr on Wednesday evening at the Hotel Bossert by his former patients there will be a vocal and instrumental program, which will feature Miss Constance Grant, who sang four years ago at the operatic performances in Covent Garden, London, and also in Milan and Paris. She is a pupil of Jean De Reszke. Alvah P. Nichols will also sing and George A. Gherken will render a violin number.

WANT TRANSFERS AT BRIDGE.

A hearing will be held soon by the Public Service Commission to determine whether the New York and Queens County Railway Company should be ordered to give transfers between its Vernon avenue line and its lines crossing the Queensboro Bridge, at point where the bridge intersects Vernon avenue. A delegation of 150 residents of Queens filed a petition today, asking the commission to act.
