

SAYS BOYS ABROAD

WELL, BUT LONELY

Comfort Them, Says Herbert L. Pratt in Y. M. C. A. Talk at All Souls.

OPENS DRIVE FOR WORKERS. Greene Avenue Baptist Congregation Hears Spirited Talk by Captain Findlay.

"Are the 1,000,000 American boys in Europe as clean morally and physically as when they left home? Are they contented with their lot? What can the folks back home do to brighten their days in the front line trenches?"

Optimistic answers to these questions were given yesterday morning by Herbert L. Pratt, who has just returned from the western front of a series of Sunday morning patriotic services in All Souls Universalist Church, Ocean and Ditmars avenues. Mr. Pratt opened the campaign to secure 1,000 Y. M. C. A. workers in New York for overseas service, as secretaries, chauffeurs and play leaders.

The distribution of candy and tobacco among American soldiers, he said, had been placed in the hands of the Y. M. C. A. by General Pershing. Seven hundred distributing points had been established and at least 300 more are being provided for.

"The boys are a cleaner and better class than when they left home," said Major Pratt. "The grime and moral questions are not troublesome and the work of the American Military Police is of the best."

"Don't let's worry about the boys' morals. They are, however, homesick and homesick. Write to them often and cheerfully."

The work of the Y. M. C. A. is to counteract the highly concentrated work of the Army machine. It helps to cheer up the boys and keep up the morale of the Army.

"We're going to find a different kind of a boy coming back than the one who went over. He'll be a better educated fellow, with broader ideas and deeper feelings of responsibility."

After the service so many people were anxious to ask questions that the congregation reconvened and Mr. Pratt went into details regarding the service required of men and women. He said that many employers were paying the salaries of

CHIROPRACTIC

(Pronounced Ki-ro-prak-tik)

The science of chiropractic is a comparatively new health system. Its development through twenty-three years of remarkable growth, and good success with the sick and afflicted, followed the inquiry and investigations of a single individual who, studying the body from the angle of its competency to take care of its health needs when in proper adjustment, conceived and formed a system of scientific adjustment that will insure freedom to the nerves to carry health impulses from the brain to every cell in every tissue, organ and part of the human machine.

The theory that people may recover their health by such adjustment is not expected to meet wide approval except as it stands up under impartial inquiry and produces the maximum of health results. It is new, strange and unusual to most people, and most people are slow to investigate any strange proposition. To bring to the attention of the public the request to thoroughly investigate the merit in the science of chiropractic for about every kind of sickness this article is written.

You are sick, we will say, and would do anything within reason to get well.

You have heretofore tried many things, and they have all failed you. All the accomplishments of science have availed you nothing toward getting well. If you are normal you want to be as well off as people who ordinarily are well. Why shouldn't you be if the same law of nature that operates to keep the well man well is consulted and brought into action to produce health in the sick? Because everything else has failed is not proof that Chiropractic adjustment will be no more successful. It has been successful in thousands of cases that would not respond to other methods.

More than five hundred thousand people the country over now take chiropractic adjustments for their health needs. There are thousands of restored patients of the chiropractors among the general public. Nearly anywhere you inquire people will be found who will unreservedly endorse the chiropractic work as the most effective health practice extant. Such a situation should in itself be inducement sufficient to prompt inquiry into the chiropractic work by any sick individual.

Being a purely natural method the chiropractic work is absolutely harmless. Men, women and children are equally benefited. Full consultation and examination of the spinal column are granted without charge. Benefits from adjustments often come surprisingly early and patients are not long left in doubt whether they are receiving definite help. There is no experimentation and no guesswork. The cause of the ailment suffered is the object worked on, and its removal is assured in the vast majority of cases by adjusting the spine with the bare hands to restore its action to their true positions. All recurrences are made by the forces that are in the body in degree as the nerves are made free for the uninterrupted action of the energy generated by the brain. Make your own investigation and be your own judge.

Save this, cut it out. Another will appear next Monday. (Rights reserved.)

For further information address your inquiry to Box No. 50, Brooklyn Daily Eagle. It will receive immediate attention.

men going abroad. The Y. M. C. A. guaranteed a uniform and a kit; free transportation over seas and back; and at the rate of $15 and $25 an allowance for family when necessary and also special war insurance. He also said that an effort was being made to rescind the rule that a woman with a brother in the Army could not go abroad. After seeing what the French women did, the American boys would not be satisfied with their wives sitting in rocking chairs and doing nothing practical.

DR. MOOR ASSAILS

KAISER AND PRINCE

Calls the Heir Apparent an Irresponsible Youngster.

MUST DOWN HOHENZOLLERN.

Preaches on "Germany's Crown Prince, an Ahab Coveting Modern Vineyards."

The Crown Prince of Germany and heir-presumptive to the throne of the Hohenzollerns would not have felt flattered had he been at the Baptist Temple last night and heard his own character portrayed by the Rev. Dr. George Caleb Moor in words which admitted of no misinterpretation as to their meaning and the message they were intended to convey.

The title of the verbal painting was "Germany's Crown Prince: An Ahab Coveting Modern Vineyards."

Dr. Moor described the Prince physically, "a slight young man with a very slight, thin, low forehead, big nose and no chin." He said he was an irrepressible youngster who tried to dominate the entire royal household and would suffer no opposition to his will, nor allow any one to interfere with the domination of his power.

"He is the only one in the realm who may contradict the Kaiser, who in no way has been able to control him," continued Dr. Moor. "He married a princess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and by the alliance got plenty of money, and consequently is able to carry along his ideas and ambitions with a high hand irrespective of his father or any consideration for humanity. And this is the young man who is expected to carry on the work of the Kaiser, a worthy son of a worthy father."

"Never shall there be peace in Europe until father and son are sent to where they should be sent. I have heard someone suggesting St. Helena. I am in favor of sending the Kaiser there, but send along with him the Crown Prince and all the breed of the Hohenzollerns, all the unholy dynasty and then we may expect relief."

"The picture of the Kaiser was painted in even more sepien color than that of the Crown Prince. Dr. Moor referred to him as usurping the divine prerogatives, and placing himself on a par with the Supreme Being in his blasphemous ambition and lust for power."

"I have the right to do what I have the power to do" is one of his mottoes," said Dr. Moor. "Death to all who do not believe in my mission—I am the instrument of the Almighty and the sword of the Lord, and woe and death to all who oppose me."

"The Kaiser's God is the power of the world," said the pastor, as he likened him and his son unto King Ahab of old. "When Ahab was confronted with Elijah he considered him to wrath, but the prophet said, 'Thou hast sold thyself to evil in the sight of the Lord.'"

"The Kaiser did not respect the mother who gave him life," continued Dr. Moor, "and no man is fit to govern who has not respect for his own mother. But never yet has there been a man or monarch that God did not overtake in the end. God is not sleeping. He is not an absentee. He never neglects his duty."

"Think of this man, the Kaiser, at the end of life, think of the picture that shall rise before him of the past. His only music shall be a dirge, the cries of children and the wailing of women. This man who has led Europe a shambles of bleaching bones saturated with blood. To end the war he wants England to give up her fleets, to give the Suez Canal over to Turkey, to despoil France to make this country pay an indemnity of $45,000,000,000; but the silly fingers of Germany shall never touch a penny of our money. On the contrary, the Germans will have to restore Belgium and Serbia and recompense France and Italy. He and his son and the whole Hohenzollern dynasty must be crushed before there can be peace on earth, the peace for which our brave boys are fighting and for which many of them have poured out their blood from which a harvest of liberty and freedom shall arise."

OUTING FOR MAIL CARRIERS.

To Buy W. S. S. With Proceeds From Carnival.

The Brooklyn Letter Carriers Association held its twenty-sixth annual summer carnival at Ulmer Park Saturday afternoon and evening. The proceeds of the affair are to be devoted to the purchase of War Savings Stamps.

The association's entertainers furnished several vaudeville skits. Movies were shown in the main hall continuously from 4 till 9:30 o'clock. The Letter Carriers Band of forty pieces, Harry J. Cochrane, director, gave an operatic concert.

The members of the entertainment committee are: William A. Monahan, chairman; James N. Little, Dan J. Cahill, H. W. Edelman, William E. McCully, George E. Slater and William J. Gorman.

BIG BOUT IN JERSEY.

Fred Fulton and Jack Dempsey will battle eight rounds at the Velodrome in Newark, Saturday, July 20. The net profits of the carnival will be donated to the Clark Griffith Bat and Ball Fund, which provides baseball paraphernalia for the soldiers in France.

POWDER IN SHOES AS WELL AS GUNS

Foot-Ease to Be Added to Equipment of Hospital Corps at Port Wayne.

Under the above heading the Detroit Free Press, among other things says: "The theory is that soldiers whose feet are in good condition can walk further and faster than soldiers who have corns and bunions incased in rawhide."

The Plattburg Camp Manual advises men in training to shake Foot-Ease in their shoes each morning.

One war relief committee reports, of all the things sent out in their Comfort Kits, Allen's Foot-Ease received the most praise from the soldiers and sailors. It is used by American, French and British troops, because it takes the friction from the shoe and freshens the feet. There is no foot comforter equal to Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic healing powder, to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the foot-bath, the standard remedy for over 25 years for hot, tired, aching, perspiring, smarting, swollen, tender feet, corns, bunions, blisters or callouses.

Why not order a dozen or more 3c. boxes to-day from your Druggist or Dept. store to mail to your friends in training camps and in the army and navy.

GERMANY HAS TO CUT

THE POTATO RATION

Amsterdam, July 8.—Owing to the lateness of the new potato crop, the Berlin authorities, according to the Tagblatt, announce the reduction of the potato ration next week from three to one pound and the distribution of no extra 200 grammes of beans and peas per head.

DID NOT INDORSE LUNN

W. A. Monahan, president of Branch 41 of the National Letter Carriers Association, which comprises the Brooklyn men, Saturday denied a report that his organization had endorsed George H. Lunn for the Governorship, or that the Letter Carriers convention in Schenectady had taken any such action.

"At a Fourth of July celebration in an open air gathering place, Lunn made a patriotic address," Mr. Monahan explained, "and at its conclusion someone in the audience proposed three cheers for 'our next Governor.' The cheers were given. That celebration was held under the auspices of the Schenectady Letter Carriers, but the convention did not take any action which could in any way be construed as endorsing Lunn."

R. E. EDITOR DIES

Henry D. Smith, retired, once real estate editor for various Manhattan newspapers, died Saturday at his residence, 576A McDonough street, in his 85th year. He was in earlier life engaged in the tobacco business.

A disastrous fire destroyed his warehouses and consequently he entered the real estate field, and becoming expert in determining values, began editing columns in the New York dailies. At various times he was connected with the World, Tribune, Mail and Express, Commercial Advertiser and the Daily Graphic.

Mr. Smith was born in England in 1832 and came to America in 1852. During the Civil War he was recruited, major of the old Thirtieth Regiment. He retired from active business in 1880. He is survived by five sons and one daughter, Mrs. T. J. Croucheley, with whom he made his home. Funeral services will be held at his late home this evening.

HORSE MEAT IN PARIS COSTS AS MUCH AS BEEF

Paris, July 8.—The price of horse flesh, which has risen extraordinarily lately because it can be sold on three meatless days in the week, has been regulated by an official decree of the Ministry of Agriculture. Horsemeat quotations are at the same level as those for the best cuts of beef. Thus, the choicer cuts of horsemeat which were 2 or 2½ francs a pound in June 1917, now are 3½ francs.

TWO ALARMS FOR STORE FIRE.

Two alarms were turned in for a fire which did $1,000 damage to the tailor shop of Ruben Krinsky of 1507 St. John's place yesterday afternoon. The flames had gained headway before they were discovered by Patrolman John Quilty. The blaze was started, it is believed, by a gas heater for iron which Mr. Krinsky left burning when he went home for lunch. M. Sidman of 264 Rochester avenue owns the building.
